He had then just left the Democratic party, and his expose of the unsoundness of their principles, and the duplicity and demagogueism of their leaders, was terrible in the extreme .-His denunciations of the Dred Scott decision, and of the party for sustaining it, surpassed anything we ever heard. Our Democrats then denounced the Judge as a mere office-seeking demagogue. They said he left the Democratic party because they would not make him Judge, and that he would leave the Republicans in two years if they did not nominate him. We thought then that these charges were the result of prejudice, and that the Judge was an honest man, and was following the convictions of his judgment. We cannot see his heart, and have no disposition to sit in judgment upon his motives.
